29 OCT 1979

Dear Dave:

I am pleased that you can join our evening discussion on Eastern Europe on Thursday, 8 November 1979. Our subject is one to which, as you know, we must return periodically: the reliability of the Soviet Union's Warsaw Pact allies, especially in military crises. There are good reasons for a stock-taking at this time, not the least of which is the growing pattern of socio-economic problems confronting the East European and Soviet leaderships.

Our plan for the evening is as follows: The company will assemble in my conference room (7D64) in the CIA Headquarters Building in Langley between 5:30 and 6:00. Refreshments will be served. Our discussion will begin at 6:00 and will continue until 8:30 or so. Dinner will be served at the conference table at 7:00. The company will be small. We shall have four specialists on Eastern Europe from outside of the Government, two or three guests, in addition to yourself, from elsewhere in the Government, and Agency analysts for a total of about fifteen. The session will begin with brief statements from our invited specialists; thereafter, a free and vigorous discussion is the objective.

I have asked [redacted] of my Academic Relations Staff to complete the arrangements for the evening. Please call them if you require further information or any assistance. Their telephone number is [redacted]

Yours,

/s/ Stansfield Turner
